Reginald Wainwright, Benjamin Connah, Joseph McGrath. Edward Law, S. G. Whitworth. Wilfred Davies and Arnold Asbury - the provision of adequate kitchen facilities at the rear of the Sunday School in 1949 and the installation of a new heating system in 1953 have added much to the amenities of the Church and the comfort of its members.

Although the limitations of printing space has meant the omission of much that would have been of interest. The task of compiling this record has been an infinitely rewarding one and if I can pass on to the reader only a fraction of the interest that I have found, then I will myself have succeeded. Of one thing I am certain. Our Church has been, for 100 years, surrounded by the love, devotion and loyal service of those who have worshipped there and, in remembering this during our Centenary Week, we shall be inspired to a renewal of our faith and a determination to continue in this the second century of its history, such service as may be in our power for the good of the Church and the widening of its influence within the neighbourhood.
