

August 1952

Gracie shows Boris round

LOOK—they're changing the guard!" exclaimed Gracie Fields. And grabbing her husband Boris firmly by the hand, she pulled him along to the Palace railings. "Haven't seen this for years," said Gracie, who is here to sing tomorrow night at the Coliseum Midnight Matinée for the Lynmouth Relief Fund. Chelsea Pensioner Herbert Hovey (above) soon spotted her—and before long they were chatting like old friends. On Westminster Bridge (right) Gracie got out her camera for a shot of the Houses of Parliament; and there our cameraman left them, strolling off still hand in hand.

